Start to Finish

Demonstrating progress

All you need is 4 questions on the board at the start of the lesson.

Students use their prior knowledge to answer the questions as best they can.

Assure them that it is ok to not know the correct answer at this point, but encouraging them to think, have a go and make a suggestion is important.

Q4

At the end of the lesson, revisit the same 4 questions and give students time to rewrite their answers.

Encourage them to compare their initial and final answers.

This will give your students a great sense of achievement.

Opportunity for collaboration

Allow your students to compare answers and make changes.
